Introduction

The ARTBEAT Collection was accessioned into Special Collections and Archives in November 1994. The collection was donated by Susan Zurcher who produced the show on WYSO, the Miami Valley's Public Radio station, from 1986 until 1993.

The ARTBEAT Collection falls into 2 series as follows:

- Series 1: Program Tapes
- Series 2: Program Transcripts

There are no restrictions on the use of this collection.

Brief Historical Sketch

ARTBEAT was a bi-monthly radio program that served to educate its audience about the world of arts, both locally and nationally. The program was hosted by Susan Zurcher, a Dayton sculptor. It first aired on WYSO, the Miami Valley's Public Radio Station, on June 12, 1986, and had a successful run until June 16, 1993. ARTBEAT also was broadcast on WDPS from September 10, 1986 until June 16, 1993, and WDPR from February 3, 1990 until June 16, 1993. The content of each show was an interview with either a local artist or an artist who was showing in the Miami Valley. The program also kept its audience abreast of happenings in the art world of Dayton and the Miami Valley.

Scope and Content

The ARTBEAT Collection consists of program transcripts and audio program tapes of the show. The collection serves as an excellent oral history of local artists who visited and had shows of their work in the Dayton area.

Series 1, Program Tapes, contains the tapes of the show. Each show gave the audience an opportunity to get to know the artist on a more personal bases, as each artist discussed where they came from, and why they decided to become an artist, as well as what other artists most influenced them and their styles of art. Ms. Zurcher also discusses the meanings behind each artists work, and questions how different pieces were made, and from what materials are they made of. Also of interest, Ms. Zurcher discusses any local art shows that may be taking place in and around the Dayton area, as well as events on the national and international scene as well.

Series 2, ARTBEAT Transcripts, consists of written transcripts from each show.
