Biographical/Historical Note:

John E. Garvey was born November 12, 1931, in Minnesota, to Luella Vandewater and Norman Garvey. He attended Breck Military Academy, West Point Preparatory School, and was in the U.S. Army during the Korean War. He went to Los Angeles Art School, UCLA Opera Workshop, and was tenor soloist for San Gabriel Episcopal Church for 2 years. John did a "Big Bear" comic strip for 3 years for Hi-Country Life newspaper. He worked in Technical, Commercial, and Fine Art all his life for mostly aerospace companies and retired from McDonnell Douglas in California. He was a member of the EAA and loved and lived for "flying" since he was 6 years old. John died on July 9, 2004, at his home in Miamisburg, Ohio, and was survived by his wife Joann (Stevens) Garvey.

(The above biographical sketch was reprinted, with few alterations, directly from John's memorial program.)
