History of Challenge '95

The Challenge '95 Regional Strategic Plan was initiated in 1989 with the support of Wright State University. The plan was implemented in the public forum that was established to identify the various social forces affecting the Miami Valley, Ohio region in the late 1980s and early 1990s. The Challenge '95 forums were used as a means of gathering the regional notables and citizens to address important issues. The initial development phase of the plan was begun in the fall of 1989. The Steering Committee identified nine issues (Economic Development, Education, Environment, Human Relations/Needs, Legislative, Regional Cooperation, Resource Enhancement, Technology/Innovation, and Transportation) around which nine taskforces were created to deal with these issues.

After the initial period of planning in the winter and spring of 1990, the forum changed format. A Transition Committee was formed through the spring and summer of 1991 to establish a new governing body, the Leadership Network, consisting of regional leaders and notables. Six of the task forces remained as committees operating Challenge '95 goals. Over the next three years, the Challenge '95 forum essentially focused on fulfilling a facilitating role in the implementation of region projects, such as "Meeting the Miami Valley" and "Project Discovery".

Scope and Contents

The records of Challenge 95 fall into four series: (I) Administrative Records; (II) Taskforce; (III) Publicity' and (IV) Audio/Visual.

Series I consists of the records of the Challenge 95 administrative bodies: correspondence, minutes, reports, and other documentation of two executive bodies that governed Challenge '95, the earlier Steering Committee and the later which served from the fall of 1989 to the fall of 1990 are placed with those of the later Leadership network to provide a complete administrative set of records. Of particular note are surveys conducted at two organizational retreats, participants held of the region and its development. The administrative records cover the entire period of the forum from 1989 to 1994.

Series II contains the records of the nine taskforces created by Challenge 95 and are naturally separated into subseries by taskforces. The taskforces are arranged: Enhancement, Education, Human Relations/Needs, Technology/Innovation, Regional Cooperation, and Legislative. The taskforce records contain correspondence, minutes, budgets, reports and other documentation related to the subject areas. The minutes in these subseries contain information gathered from a series of bimonthly meetings that each taskforce held at different locations throughout the region in order to attract a variety of area citizens. These subseries also contain reports generated by the taskforces on issues and projects on the regional level from 1989 to 1992.

Series III contains all material dealing with the publicity of Challenge '95. This series holds newsletters, news clippings, press releases and a large amount of photographic materials from 1989 to 1993. The photographic material consists of pictures from several large Challenge '95 meetings and other events.

Series IV contains all of the audio and video material generated by challenge '95. These records consist of video tapes of meetings and conferences and audio tapes of meetings.
